

SOUTHERN GOVERNORS PREPARE FOR 'CIVIL RIGHTS' SHOWDOWN

GOP Leaders to Push Home-Building Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Republican leaders awaiting a presidential message on housing reported today to be determined to push a home-building bill through Congress.

Word that the presidential message will be sent to Congress tomorrow came from Puerto Rico, where Mr. Truman spent Saturday on his tour of Caribbean bases.

This interested Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), vice chairman of the House-Senate housing committee. He told a reporter he has had further conferences on housing legislation with Republican congressional leaders. The Wisconsin Senator said they "definitely" favor passing a law this session to encourage home construction.

The joint housing committee is scheduled to submit its report and housing bill to Congress by March 15. McCarthy is drafting a bill which he expects to turn over to the committee later this week.

Labor Leaders Back Drive to Oust Anti-Reds From Czech Government

PRAGUE, Feb. 22 (AP)—Labor leaders threw their support today behind the campaign by Premier Klement Gottwald to drive his anti-Communist foes out of the Czechoslovak government.

Delegates to the Czechoslovak trade union told the Communist premier they would call a one-hour nationwide strike Tuesday as a token of support for his demands.

Gottwald stepped up his campaign with a speech before the trade union delegates at the Prague fair grounds. He demanded for the fourth time in three days that President Eduard Benes accept the resignations of 12 ministers from three anti-Communist parties.

The ministers resigned in protest against promotions of Communists to high posts in the security police. Gottwald sought authority from Benes to replace the ministers with pro-Soviet Communist sympathizers.

Benes has refused Gottwald's demands since his first conference with the Communist premier Friday. His refusal has on the face of things kept the government from falling apart.

Gottwald's speech before the trade union delegates was broadcast to the country.

He employed more and more the type of slogan that preceded purging of Communist opponents from the political life of other European countries. Cheers greeted his cry: "Long live the government of the national front of the working people!"

He charged the opposition with being anti-Soviet.

"Domestic and foreign reaction have been trying to change both our domestic and foreign policy," he shouted.

Labor Unions Prosecuted by NLRB—Green

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—AFL President William Green today said that the first six months under the Taft-Hartley act has made the National Labor Relations board "into a prosecutor of labor unions."

Green's blast came as the board reported that 99 percent of workers participating in union shop elections under the act during January had voted in favor of such a contract provision.

A vote under board auspices in favor of the union shop authorizes the union to negotiate with the employer for a provision by which he may hire any person but the new employee must join the union within a specified time.

Green said in a statement the first six months under the act had "intimidated organized labor's antagonism of the measure."

Senators to Receive Aid Cut Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—A proposal to cut the first year's spending under the Marshall plan to $3,500,000,000 will be laid before 20 Republican senators today.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) told a reporter today he intends to offer that figure to the group which has been seeking to alter the European recovery program. He said he expects a meeting in the next few days.

Ball's proposal would cut $1,800,000,000 off the $3,500,000,000 total approved by the Senate foreign relations committee for the 12 months beginning April 1.

JEW CHARGE BRITISH HELPING FIGHT PARTITION

Say English Policy Of 'Tolerance' Is Aid To Arabs in Struggle

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 22 (AP)—The Jewish agency for Palestine charged today that Britain is helping the Arab battle against partition.

The agency submitted a 12,000-word memorandum to the United Nations Security Council and the Palestine commission. It said British policy of "tolerance" has encouraged enemies of partition.

The agency also contended that Britain's professed neutrality in Palestine has weakened the Jewish defense and seriously threatens peace.

It was the first such lengthy accusation by the agency against the British since the U. N. assembly approved the past November a plan to divide the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab countries. The Security Council will open Tuesday a fateful debate on the question of setting up an international force to support the partition plan.

The U. N. has recognized the agency as the representative of the Jews of Palestine. The agency declared that Palestine's Jews "have come to recognize that only their own forces stand between them and annihilation."

It charged that the British have taken stringent measures against Jewish defenders while adopting "a policy of comparative leniency toward Arab attackers."

A British spokesman said his government was reluctant to engage in "mud-slinging" but that the British might have to answer this latest formally. He said that since partition was approved both Jews and Arabs have been guilty of terrorist acts and that the Palestine government has been doing the best it can to keep order under difficult circumstances.

The agency said British policies in Palestine are "directly costing human lives at this very moment; but their deeper significance lies in the conditions which they determine for the immediate future."

"It seems inevitable," the agency added, "unless preventive action is taken internationally, that at an early date there will be a full-scale Arab attack upon the United Nations decision countered by a whole-hearted Jewish effort to defend that decision."

U. S. READIES POLICY ON PARTITIONING OF THE HOLY LAND

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—American policy of enforcing the division of Palestine between Arabs and Jews will be whipped into final shape tomorrow by Secretary of State Marshall.

Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the United Nations, is due here overnight to join Marshall and other top officials for the decisive round of conferences on the explosive issue.

The subject is under an absolute secrecy ban in the State department this far.

Nonetheless, statements by President Truman himself have led to wide speculation here that the American government will (1) stick firmly to the United Nations decision for partitioning of Palestine and (2) support the recommendation of a United Nations commission for an international armed force to police and strife torn Holy Land until independent Arab and Jewish states can be entrusted with their own security.

This line of speculation is based on the admission which Mr. Truman expressed in a report to Congress Friday for the boldness with which the United Nations has thus far tackled world problems. Also, he said flatly that the U. N. is trying to settle the Palestine issue on the basis of partitioning the land.

His report is expected to become a major factor in determining whether the Security Council itself eventually orders an armed force to take over when the British surrender their authority there May 15. All their troops are due to be out by Aug. 1.

Tonight the governor arranged a meeting with a group of Southern Congressmen similarly opposed to the "civil rights" program.

Cats Are Cats—Not Guinea Pigs

TOKYO, Feb. 22 (AP)—Japanese apparently are unwilling to have their cats used as "guinea pigs."

The government is offering 100 yen ($2) per cat to test some soybean flour suspected of being contaminated, but not a single cat has been offered at that price.

Two persons have died and 700 have become ill of food poisoning tentatively traced to the flour. The suspected shipment has been withdrawn.

War Crimes Prosecutor Raps Judge for Interview

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 22 (AP)—The chief U. S. prosecutor of war crimes in Germany aimed an unprecedented blast today at the American judge who presided over the trial of German generals which ended Thursday.

Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, the prosecutor, said Charles F. Wennerstrum, a justice of the Iowa Supreme court, gave the Chicago Tribune an interview which is "subversive of the interests and policies of the United States."

(The Chicago Tribune, in a copyrighted story from Nuernberg, Germany, tonight quoted Wennerstrum as saying the high ideals announced as the motives for creating the war crimes tribunals have "not been evident.")

The war crimes prosecution, he was quoted as saying, "has failed to maintain objectivity aloof from vindictiveness, aloof from personal ambitions for convictions."

(The war crimes trials, Wennerstrum told Tribune correspondent Hal Foster, have "convinced the Germans merely that their leaders lost the war to tough conquerors.")

Taylor said the interview "will be used by all the worst elements in Germany against the best."

Wennerstrum in enroute to the United States and thus was unavailable for comment on Taylor's statement.

When Taylor made his charge, the interview had not been published by the Chicago Tribune. How Taylor could have got a copy of it was not explained by the U. S. Army's public relations division, which made public his statement.

Foster, the correspondent who obtained the interview, said he was serving a new story to the Chicago Tribune "about wire-tapping by the Army at Nuernberg."

Foster said:

"I obtained the interview with Wennerstrum behind locked doors. I filed it immediately by press wireless to Berlin (where the Tribune has an office)."

"Obviously, somebody at Nuernberg read my copy and reported it to General Taylor."

Foster said this was the second time in six weeks that the "same thing has happened to me."

"I was in Garmisch about five weeks ago and wrote a story and filed it from there," he said.

CIO to Seek Pay Boost Despite Market Drop

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—The CIO is going ahead with its new wage demands.

The food price break did not change its plans, CIO president Philip Murray said today. He sees no reason for it to continue, he said.

It was a flat no to the question: Have sliding markets softened the CIO campaign for a new round of wage boosts?

Said Murray in a statement: "Nothing that has occurred in the past few weeks alters the CIO's determination to seek substantial wage increases and work for anti-inflation legislation."

Wage talks in the vital steel industry start in April. Economists anxiously await the effect. Already some steel prices have gone up $5 or more a ton ahead of the wage meetings.

Is this price increase just a starter? The magazine Steel today forecast that it is. It expects a general steel price rise in anticipation of a wage hike.

However, leading steel men said the past week that the new steel quotations are only to meet present costs. Future wage demands have nothing to do with it, they said.

President Truman Hailed On Virgin Island Arrival

CARLOTTE 'AMALIE,' Virgin Islands, Feb. 22 (AP) — A dapper, white-clad, sun-tanned President Truman received a happy welcome to the Virgin Islands today as the "champion of human rights."

His recent civil rights proposals to Congress—which brought protests from Southern Democrats back home—evoked cheers from this island possession.

Negro Governor William H. Hastie, whom Mr. Truman appointed to office, was his official host for a busy day which started immediately after the chief executive cooked in Charlotte Amalie harbor and stepped from the U.S.S. Williamsburg.

Man Murders Wife, Then Takes Own Life

WINNIPEG, Feb. 22 (AP) — Police said today a man stabbed his wife to death Saturday in a hospital, then killed himself with a hunting knife.

The dead were Pierre Charver, 32, a machine shop operator, of Montmartre, Sask., and Mrs. Cecile Charver, 31, mother of two children. Police said the woman had entered the hospital in Winnipeg for treatment of a nervous condition.

They did not explain the motive for the slaying and suicide.

major part of the surgery, said that Wood was saved "only through the utmost co-operation on the part of the entire hospital staff," and also credited his assistants, Drs. Jameson and Chersashore.

Not only was Wood given plasma before the operation could begin, but throughout the surgery he was fed intravenously and given continuous blood transfusions and oxygen.

Of the sutures used on Wood, 18 were on the heart, almost 100 to repair the stomach and lung and the remainder to close up the gaping incision.

The spleen, too badly damaged to be saved, was removed altogether.

Dr. Brant had to remove two ribs before he could begin suturing the wounds. He declared that "sewing up of the heart ventricle was a tricky business, since the heart muscle was jumping about at the rate of 120 pulsations a minute."

After the heart wound was closed, the physician sewed up a hole in the pericardium, two holes in the lung, two in the stomach and then removed the spleen.

Before the extended and unusual operation could begin, Wood received six blood transfusions from friends, as well as the plasma.

An attendant at the hospital, experienced with bullet wound cases, said when Wood had been removed from the operating room, "People with a wound like his ordinarily die within a few minutes."

Pastor Celebrates 25th Anniversary; Gets Purse, Flowers

The Rev. Daniel A. Draper, pastor of the Trappe and Zieglerville Evangelical Congregational churches, celebrated his 25th year of continuous Christian ministry yesterday in both churches.

The Rev. John A. Smith, presiding elder of the church's Eastern District division, preached sermons in both parishes observing the anniversary. The Rev. Draper is an ordained elder, one of the highest offices of the Evangelical church.

At the 10:30 a. m. service in the Trappe church, David Buckwalter and Frank Hunsberger, parishioners, gave the pastor a purse and flowers in behalf of the congregation.

There were nine baskets in all, including a bunch of white roses from the Sunday school.

The presentation came after the Rev. Smith urged the congregation always to stick by its pastor and cited the numerous spiritual benefits a pastor brings to his community. Among them he cited particularly the comfort ministers bring to the sick and the bereaved.

In the Zieglerville church service at 2:30 o'clock, Warren Kratz, superintendent of the Sunday school, presented Mrs. Draper with a corsage of carnations and daffodils.

The Rev. Smith paid tribute also to the pastor's wife, who, he said had helped him complete his

Man Is Electrocuted Trying to Save Kite

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Charles Burgess, 39-year-old father of eight, was electrocuted last night as he tried to retrieve his son's runaway kite from a high voltage line.

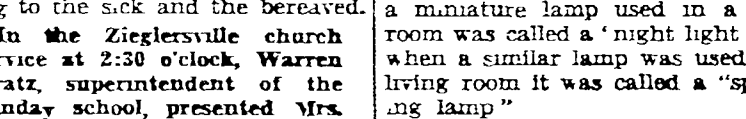

While David, 10, looked on, his father tried to free the kite by hitting it with a stone which he had attached to a piece of copper wire. The wire contacted the power line, sending 2200 volts of electricity through the man's body.

The accident interrupted power service here for half an hour.

N. M. Trout Passes; Former Councilman

Nelson M. Trout, 84, of 901 North Carlisle street, was led a varied and colorful life, part of it as a member of borough council, died last night at 11:15 o'clock in Memorial hospital.

Ill since the past August, he was admitted to the hospital Jan. 5 and had been in a coma since the past Wednesday. He was the last of his family and leaves no members of his immediate family.

Mr. Trout was born and educated in Pottstown and spent his early years here as a puddler in the local steel foundries.

It was during this time that he was a member of council.

He left Pottstown to work in the customs house in Philadelphia and returned only after he had been employed for several years as road representative for the Sunday North American, a Philadelphia newspaper.

For 15 years after that he was superintendent of the local branch of the Philadelphia Gas and Electric company.

Until 25 years ago he lived at 225 Evans street, moving from there to Lincoln avenue and Evans street where he stayed for three years, when he moved to his last address after his retirement.

Trout to Florida entered his retirement, and he and Mrs. Trout spent their winters there in all.

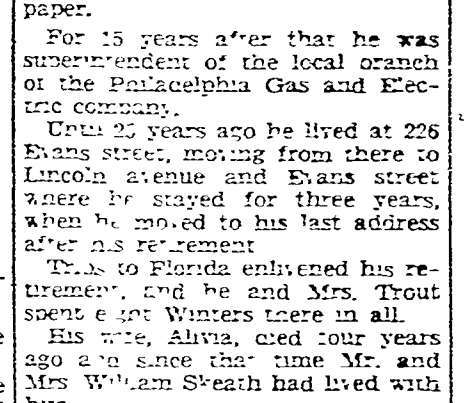

His wife, Alvin, died four years ago and since that time Mr. and Mrs. William Steath had lived with him.

One of his seven nieces, Mrs. Carl L. Vagle, 110 North Washington street, recalled last night that he always liked names spelled correctly and was particularly annoyed when his wife's name was spelled Olivia.

Two nephews are the only members of his family that survive him.

Funeral arrangements were not complete last night.

school, and three intermediary students, Thomas Rutter, Gordon Galloway and Richard Mensch, led the Sunday school service.

In addition, fathers brought sons to the morning service.

The father-son service, which was scheduled at the Salvation Army last night, was canceled because of the illness of Capt. Meral Cox with a bad attack of sinus infection.

The Mohrs, George A. father, and George W. son, led the Sunday school program at First Baptist. The father offered the morning prayer, and the son led the responsive readings.

Later, in the morning service, they joined Norma Oringer and son, Douglas, and Douglas Nichols and son, Wesley, as ushers.

Besides a sermon on father and son spirit preached by the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of Balliet Evangelical United Brethren, three parishioners entered into the morning worship to celebrate the special week.

Walter Smith read responsive readings, James Smith read the Scripture lesson, and Elmer Hoffman led prayers.

Twenty-five fathers observed their sons being taught in St. James Lutheran church's Sunday school as part of the observance. Lawrence Scharf and son, Charles, and Burton Jones and son, Robert, took part in the worship service.

At St. Charles Methodist, sons presented most of the vocal and instrumental numbers in the Sunday school service as their fathers conducted the session.

Further celebrations will continue throughout the week, reaching the crescendo Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Senior High school auditorium when a group of nationally-known sports figures will address the meeting.

Tonight will see the formation of a men's club in Trinity Reformed.

Firemen Seek Body Of Man In Guffed Building

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 22 (AP)—City firemen late today began digging through the ice covered wreckage of the Jackson building for the body of a fireman buried by debris during the $500,000 fire which destroyed the structure and took two lives.

The body of Mrs. Irene Westbrook, a cashier, in the San drug store which occupied the first floor, was recovered yesterday.

The woman was trapped in a downstairs washroom when fire broke out in the five-story brick office building in the heart of the city's "Golden Triangle" early yesterday. The fireman, Gerald Levey, 39, was lost as a sudden gust of smoke scattered firefighters attempting to rescue the woman.

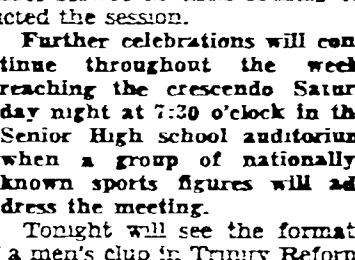

At 2 o'clock when Isaac Thomas, the Hill teacher, will speak on unknown facts of Washington's life and mores will be shown.

The men have been invited to bring their sons to the inaugural meeting.

"A Night of Fun" will be held at First Baptist tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

And at tonight's meeting of St. James Lutheran church's Boy Scout Troop 18 fathers of scouts have been invited.

Wednesday night at Christ Episcopal boxing bouts bringing together lads of ages from 9 to 15 will be featured as a contribution to the week.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1948

Of all bad things by which mankind are cursed, their own bad tempers surely are the worst.—Cumberland.

Washington
IT MIGHT BE said that life began—and ended—at 40 for George Washington.
Washington's birthday in 1772 must have found him a happy man. He was busy at the work he enjoyed. He was rich—one of the richest men in America—and respected. No struggle or hardship seemed likely to bar his leisurely way toward the comfortable years ahead.

Across the Delaware

But events were brewing which shortly were to end that first life. Washington might have ignored the oppressive tactics of George III against his American colonists, and their heated reactions. He was, after all, secure. He had little to fear by standing aloof, little to gain by joining the strife.

But Washington happened to believe in liberty, fair dealing and personal independence.
His reluctant conversion to the cause of political independence came later. But his "solid independence and sound judgment," as Patrick Henry described it, soon lifted him to a place of pre-war leadership.

As a commander Washington may have lacked military genius. (Possibly the war ended as it did because the English commanders made more mistakes than Washington.) He may have been hesitant and diffident at times. But he also took the war as an aroused hatred of injustice and a tireless, persistent determination to do the job. He organized, disciplined and won victories from his disgruntled countrymen as well as from the enemy.

Cowardice and treachery among his officers plagued him. His soldiers deserted and threatened mutiny. An indifferent congress ignored him. He was the target of public criticism and of a nasty military intrigue which almost succeeded in ousting him from his post of commander-in-chief.

It is probably literally true that at times
Washington kept the American cause alive solely by the force of his personality and prestige. By doing so he reaped the reward of more onerous duties as president.

Undoubtedly he would have wished it otherwise. The war cost Washington a good part of his fortune. The duties of war and statesmanship kept him from the life he loved for more than 16 years. By inclination and a successful, scientific one. The man who made a stiff, rather forbidding president was, at home, a man who was fond of good food, hunting, fishing, horse racing, billiards and the other activities which men enjoy.

Washington probably disliked the adulation and abuse endured in his lifetime as much as he would have resented the isolation and "debunking" since his death. Perhaps we might think of him today without either emotion.

We might admire him as an ordinary man of extraordinary power who, if ever man did, had greatness thrust upon him. We might pay him more gratitude for having had a sense of duty without a sense of "mission," or personal ambition. It is not only the poor and "consecrated" who made sacrifices. Washington sacrificed a life of ease and enjoyment to preserve freedom and found a nation.

'Nothing Too Good'

To the Editor: What has happened to all the people that were going to do so much for the returning veterans? I am presuming there were some landlairs in that group of people.

Ours isn't a new story—but it's painful and personal. For six long months we have looked for a place to live in Pottstown. We had a few strikes against us, I'll admit.

1. A two and one-half year-old girl.
The landlairs we've talked to all had unnatural births—they were born adults.
2. We had neither a new car nor a few hundred dollars to offer as bribes.
(One man offered his apartment; if we could top a previous bribe he'd been offered.)

The fact that we have a few redeeming qualities to make up for the grave faults mentioned did not interest the landlairs we met. Perhaps we did not meet the right kind.

Like many other young couples, we've never had a home, what with moving from one Army camp to the other, my husband spending 23 months on Okinawa —and now this. All we ask is a chance to make a home together and give our child a chance to really know her daddy a little better than she can just seeing him on occasional weekends.

I repeat: What's happened to those many people that felt that "nothing is too good for the returning boys?"

Dogs on the Loose

To the Editor: Dogs are on the loose already in our neighborhood. As soon as the warm weather begins, dog owners turn their animals out to live out their neighbors' garbage cans.

I'll pick up garbage from my yard tolerate other persons' children, but I draw a line when it comes to their dogs.

New Light for Leadership

To the Editor: President Truman's civil rights message has only one comparison in American history, the Emancipation Proclamation of Abraham Lincoln. The peoples of the world will see a new light for moral leadership in these dicta of the President, denouncing intolerance and bigotry and holding up the torch of freedom and human dignity, without regard to race, creed or color.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

BREAST FEEDING is the best life insurance a mother can give her baby.
Breast milk provides, as no other food can, the exact elements a baby needs for growth and health. Not only is it the food on which the baby thrives best, but by the very act of nursing her baby, the mother insures for herself and her child the necessary emotional satisfaction which will mean so much to both throughout the years to come.

In view of all this, it is a great pity that so many modern mothers steadfastly ignore Nature's law and insist that their babies be bottle fed. Studies of hospital figures show that in many cities only one out of every 20 mothers breast-feeds her baby, this despite the fact that easily nine out of every ten mothers could do so.

Though the chief reason for this sad state of affairs is the unwillingness of today's women to nurse their babies, I have no doubt it could be overcome if mothers understood that breast-feeding is far less of an inconvenience than most people suppose. For instance, many women believe that breast-feeding will cause them to gain weight and, at the same time, render the breasts flabby.

Neither of these notions is true.
Nursing does not change the shape of the breasts and, if the mother who nurses her baby uses a well-balanced diet, any unwelcome weight gain can be prevented.

Smoking is prevalent among women today and a good many women refuse to nurse their babies lest they should have to give up this habit. If they stopped to inquire, they would find general agreement among doctors that moderate smoking on the part of the mother will do no harm during the nursing period.

Another so-called objection to nursing is that it confines the mother too closely.
This is another unjustified fear since it is perfectly possible for the mother who nurses her baby to use one bottle feeding a day, thus giving herself time for business and social engagements. She must, however, make sure that the breasts are completely emptied to help keep up the milk supply.

The problems created by breast-feeding are little ones, easily taken care of by such suggestions as those I have made above. Those solved by it are of vast importance, both to the welfare of the baby and the mother herself. I am sure that if mothers really understood these things they would be eager to follow the method devised by Nature, for the nourishment of their babies.

During recent times, some authorities seem to think that adherence to a rigid schedule is not advisable; that mothers should respond more to their infants' natural desires rather than to clocklike schedules.

WASHINGTON

Eccles Faction Wielding
Power, Despite Truman

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 — President Truman's original plan to vest control of the Federal Reserve system in the power of conservative bankers has been balked by the refusal of Marriner S. Eccles to resign from the central board, despite his denunciation from the chairmanship to the vice-chairmanship.

President Truman
during their painful interview at the White House, Mr. Truman planned to supplant the chairman with Thomas P.
McCabe, Pennsylvania Union League Republican, who was subsequently named to the place.

Mr. Truman did not intend to re-nominat M. S. Szymczak for a seat on the board because he subscribes to the Eccles program of tightening credit by hoisting banks' reserve requirements.

But Mr. Eccles, after his Saturday morning showdown, begged the President to reappoint the Illinois man and Mr.
Truman, who hates to hurt too many feelings, complied. The Szymczak nomination was sent to the Senate after the Truman-Eccles talk and constituted a great victory for the demoted leader.

EXPERT: Had the White House been able to force Mr. Eccles out, and had Mr.
Truman not permitted his personal feelings to influence him in the matter of the Szymczak reappointment, the President would have filled these prospective vacancies with men of the McCabe type.
There would then have been a third place Ransom, of Georgia, and that also would have fallen to a less politically explosive

It so happens that Messrs. Eccles and Szymczak are the two men who have familiarized themselves with the three questions which have proved politically embarrassing to the White House, as Mr. Truman tried to explain in his talk with Chairman Eccles — namely, anti-inflation tightening of bank credit, economy in such popular agencies as the Federal Housing Authority, Farm Credit and the Veterans Administration's loan bureau, and the bill to abolish bank holding companies.

The four other members are not particularly expert on these subjects.
They would probably have accepted the views of the three new members if Mr.
Eccles's first burst of resentment had induced him to quit. As it is now, the forceful Utah man, as vice-chairman will swing a great deal of influence inside the board and on Capitol Hill with respect to these problems.

Thus, President Truman's kindness and lack of pugnacity robbed him and the conservative financial community of a full victory over the Eccles faction.

RESPONSIBLE: The Eccles group is now convinced that A. P. Giannini, powerful West Coast banker, was largely responsible for his downfall. He has had a grudge against the chairman ever since the latter sponsored the measure for abolition of bank holding companies, which would force a disintegration of the financial and industrial empire ruled by
A. P.

There were other considerations, of course. Leslie Biddle, Mr. Truman's watchman on Capitol Hill as active manager of the Democrats' political policy committee, informed the White House that Mr. Eccles's attitude jeopardized the enactment of the President's anti-inflation program for wage, price and material control. But Mr. Giannini's antagonism is now regarded as the basic reason for the Eccles-McCabe shift.

The California financial wizard has been gunning for Mr. Eccles and his anti-holding company measure, which has been reported favorably by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. It not come to a vote because of the objections of Senator Sheridan Downey, California Democrat. But Mr. Eccles has done some effective lobbying for it, and there is still a possibility that it will pass.

SIDES: Although Mr. Giannini is normally regarded as a Republican, he plays both sides of the political street in the manner of all far-sighted financiers.
He has plans for further expansion, but they must wait until he assures himself that he can kill the anti-bank holding measure.

He has employed Sam Husbard, R. E. C. as executive head of his vast organization. It is understood in Federal Reserve circles that he has made a standing offer of $100,000 a year, possibly more, to Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder to become president of Trans-America company.

He is on excellent terms with James Roosevelt, who appears to be handling the policies in California for the White House. "Jimmie" saw Mr. Truman only a few days before the Eccles demotion.

EVIDENCE: California and Washington, with their 33 electoral votes, are danger spots for the Democrats, in view of Henry A. Wallace's reported strength in those areas. In fact, other western commonwealths where the Giannini tentacles extend, are also a battleground.
So, the Eccles scalp was peace offering to the latter's ancient enemy.

The deal many boomers are, however,
in all his recent speeches, for whatever it may be worth, the rebellious Iowa is citing the Eccles case as evidence that the White House has succumbed to Wall Street.

dent's cabinet, is a Yale man and at one time worked for an uncle, later formed a clay products company and, at 31 was president of a rustless iron and steel company. Moving to St. Louis, Symington became president of an electric company. President Truman appointed him director of SPS in Washington where he streamlined the sales organization, resigning in January, 1946.
Mr. Truman then made him assistant secretary of war for air, and after the armed services merger he was given his present job. Barbara Luddy, a radio serial's leading lady, began her professional career as a singer at eight. Overwork and strain ended that, so she became an actress. She worked in stock, played in movie comedies with George Harris, and in 1929 toured Australia with Leo Carillo and the Duffy players. Her radio career began in 1937.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Recall Eve's Husband?...
Was He White, Black?...

WAS ADAM IRISH? — You remember Adam, don't you? Eve's husband. The first of all men to walk the earth.

Was he Irish or Polish? — English or German? — Black or White?

It's an interesting question, isn't it?

To tell the truth, the Bible doesn't say anything about his race or his nationality. Adam was a man. It makes that point very clear. He had a body and a soul especially created by the good God.
And it was his soul that gave him his immense dignity. It made him a human being. It was the seat of his power to think and control his actions, to recall the past and imagine the future...

HE GAVE the animals their names and ruled over them. Because of his human powers, he would always be able to throw a saddle over a horse, confident that the roles would never be reversed — that no horse would be able to get a saddle across his back...

25 Years Ago

February 23, 1923

WAS HE Protestant, Catholic, or Jewish?
Adam wasn't any of these. The Jews didn't come into existence as a religious people until many thousands of years after Adam; and Christianity didn't develop until thousands of years after the days of Abraham. Not that Adam didn't worship God. No, indeed. He was a deeply religious man. He accepted God's revelation with simplicity, and although he sinned mightily against his Lord, there is a solid opinion that he repented that sin and that he is happy with God in heaven right now...

BUT WHY the talk about Adam?
Because it is through him that we are literally made cousins. We are all kin one of another. We all have the same grandparents — maybe a great, great, great to the nth degree, but still, we're all members of the same human family...

SOME OF our cousins are Irish and some are Swedes; some are Syrian; some are Japanese. What of it? Well never know, in this life, the color of Adam's complexion. The Bible is wisely silent on this point.

As for our religion, over here in America, at least, were all divided up among Catholics, Protestants, and Jews.
Whatever our creed, each of us is sincerely convinced that ours is the belief God wants us to follow. And we know that conscience, if we follow it, is going to lead us straight to God our Heavenly Father...

THESE considerations are presented in view of American Brotherhood Week being observed in Pottstown this week. It's a time for renewing our convictions on the very real brotherhood of man through the blood of Adam and Eve, under the spiritual parenthood of the Almighty God in heaven.

Painting Presented Prize-Winner in Council Competition

Announcement of contest winners, plans for the formation of a glee club and a speech on "Roman Catholics" marked yesterday's meeting of 50 members of Father Bally Council 1192, Knights of Columbus, in the council's chambers.

Florence Giangiulio was presented first prize of an original painting for giving the name "Bally Beacon" to the monthly bulletin that has been published since July under the editorship of John G. Kato.

Other winners in the contest open to both council and women's auxiliary members were: second prize, a pen and pencil set, to Mrs. William Eshbach, and third prize, a table lamp, to John Yonkovich.

Paul Marchek was appointed by Stephen Vagasky, grand knight, to begin formation of the council's glee club. Marchek said he plans to hold preliminary tryouts within a week.

The Rev. Francis E. Suchanek, rector of St. Gabriel's Catholic church, spoke, addressed the unusually high number of members present on Roman Catholics, outlining their construction outside the city's walls by early Christians who wished to have burial in the ground as suggested by the burial of Christ.

Value of One's Own Rights, Convictions Necessary in Brotherhood, Pastor Says

"Brotherhood begins with one's self," declared the Rev. John B. Prantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, in his sermon yesterday morning in observance of the start of Brotherhood Week.

"If I am to love my neighbor as myself," he continued, "I first must have the right kind of love and respect for myself. If I am to respect my neighbor, I must first have regard for my own body as a temple of the Holy Spirit. If I am to respect His rights and convictions, I must value my own."

The Rev. Prantz is chairman of the Pottstown Community Interracial Commission which in past years has sponsored Brotherhood Week. Local churches are co-operating individually this year.

"I must place a high value on what I believe," the minister told his congregation, "and then I can and shall be able to value and respect the views of my Negro, Jewish or Roman Catholic neighbors and friends."

The Rev. Prantz spoke on the theme, "Who Is Thy Brother?" He used as his text Cain's answer to the question recorded in the second chapter of the Book of Genesis, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Stowing how this answer, though an easy way out, is "too unrealistic and un-Christian for our day and age," the Rev. Prantz declared: "I am my brother's keeper only in the sense that I am my brother's brother."

"The delicate task of true brotherliness demands a consecration of the imagination and intelligence."

One-Week-Old Quads Gel Visit From Mother

LATROBE, Feb. 22 (AP)—The Zavadas quadruplets, a week old today, celebrated the event with the first visit from their mother.

Mrs. Barbara Zavadas, 26, was wheeled at midnight from her second-floor room into an elevator and then to the special third-floor nursery to view her babies.

She peered into the glass topped incubators at squirming and squawking John Michael, Anna Mary, Barbara Rose and Bernadette Elizabeth, and exclaimed proudly: "Why, they're not so small."

The babies weighed from three to three and three-quarter pounds at birth early the past Sunday.

Six-Inch Snow Blankets Boyertown As Citizens Reach for Shovels Again

Richard Weller Named to Assembly Of Hi-Y Legislature

Richard Weller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Weller, 519 East Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown, was elected to the office of assemblyman to represent Boyertown Hi-Y club at the State Hi-Y Model legislature to be held in the State capitol in Harrisburg on Friday and Saturday, April 2 and 3. It was announced following a pre-legislative assembly held by 22 central-state district Hi-Y clubs the past Saturday at Muhlenberg college, Allentown.

Weller presented a legislative bill which a committee from the local Hi-Y club has been working on for the past several weeks entitled: "To require arbitration of labor disputes in all basic industries of Pennsylvania." The bill was reviewed at Saturday's assembly and was ready for further processing before reaching committees of the House or Senate of the model legislature in Harrisburg on April 2 and 3.

At that time, Weller will be one of 208 representatives who will gather with 50 Hi-Y senators and ten teen-age state officials to open the Hi-Y Model legislative session in the Senate and House chambers of the state capitol. A feature of the opening session will be the swearing in of the elected legislators, when each boy will take an oath by placing his hand on a Bible which will be inscribed and will become his property as a memento of the mock legislative session. Gov. James H. Duff is expected to address the joint session on the opening day.

Commonwealth officials and leaders are assisting in training and coaching the boys. Lt. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler is chairman of the State-wide Hi-Y Youth and Government committee which has been named by the State YMCA of Pennsylvania, sponsors of the project. Weller was elected a member of the house of representatives at the Saturday afternoon session at Muhlenberg college. The pre-legislative assembly opened at 10 a. m. with devotional exercises in Gideon P. Eger Memorial chapel.

Weller is an active member of the local Hi-Y club. He was a member of the Junior Hi-Y group for three years. He is a tenth grade student in Boyertown High school, where he is also a member of "The Cub," student newspaper.

Tri-Hi-Y Club Listed 9th In Life Problems Course

Boyertown Senior Tri-Hi-Y club is in ninth place in the life problems course contest being sponsored by the State YMCA of Pennsylvania, a report from Harrisburg indicates.

The local club is one of 35 similar groups in the Central East district entered in the competition. Other Boyertown clubs are Boyertown Junior Hi-Y and Junior Tri-Hi-Y. Mrs. Josephine B. Berly is sponsor of the Tri-Hi-Y club. The club has a total of 638 points to date, while Pine Grove Junior Tri-Hi-Y leads the district with 876 points.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from a Warwick street funeral home in Boyertown. The Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Fairview cemetery, Boyertown.

Two Tankers Collide In Delaware River

ESSINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Two tankers crashed into each other in the Delaware river today.

First reports from residents along the river said there had been an explosion and fire, but a Coast Guard spokesman said that only steam pipes had broken.

There were no injuries reported. The Coast Guardsman said the tankers—the Pan Massachusetts, owned by National Bulk carriers, Wilmington, Del., and the Atlantic Trawler, owned by Atlantic Refining company—collided at 10:45 a. m.

A 40-foot hole was ripped in the port side of the Atlantic Trawler, the spokesman said, adding that the vessel was able to proceed under its own steam.

Heard Confession

Sworn in as a witness in the Chicago trial of Howard Lang, 13, who faces a murder charge, Anna May Evans, 17, a girl friend, testifies that Lang confessed to her that he had killed Lonnie Fellick, 9, a playmate. She said the admission was made a day after the crime.

Two Escape Injury As Autos Collide

Damage totalling $300 resulted when two automobiles collided at the corner of North Reading avenue and Fifth street the past Saturday at 11 p. m. No one was injured.

Local police reported that the automobiles were operated by John E. Benfield, of Bally, and Randall Schwenk, of Shanesville, who was driving a car owned by his brother, Earl.

Benfield was proceeding west on East Fifth street and Schwenk was driving south on North Reading avenue when the accident occurred. Police estimated damage to each car at about $150. The front end of Benfield's car was smashed, including fender, grill and radiator, while damage to Schwenk's vehicle, a 1939 sedan, was extensive on the front left side, including hood, fender and grill. Benfield was driving a 1940 sedan.

Patrolmen Titus E. Edginger and Douglas R. Zook investigated for local police.

Rotary President Named To Nominating Committee

Ralph C. Body, president of Rotary club of Boyertown, was named recently to a nominating committee for district governor of the 179th District, Joseph A. Abe, of the Reading club, was the unanimous selection.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRY

Lubrication Adds to Auto's Performance

The past six weeks of severe winter weather this area has experienced has certainly been hard not just on the motorist, but the automobile itself.

A good car is built to stand a lot of punishment, but with machines much older today any long cold spell takes something out of them. That is, unless we are careful to see the car gets periodic servicing from someone who knows his business.

Good oils and greases help prevent needless wear and tear on any piece of machinery.

Most experts say cars should be lubricated every 500 miles in winter and the oil drained and refilled instead of the regular 1000-mile changeover for other seasons. That is what they think of what cold weather does to your car. But at least follow the 1000-mile routine if you want to preserve your automobile and cut down costly garage bills.

Ralph Y. Galloway, who operates the Atlantic Service station, High and York streets, gives your automobile the kind of service it has a right to expect.

Drive in here for a checkover and dependable products.

Business Notes

No matter how badly that car is damaged it can be made to look like new by Brile Bros. Body Shop, Farmington avenue, route 100. Tow-in service is given if you phone 2397.

Mobilization at Gaugler's Service station, King and Manaway streets, will add miles of wear to that automobile of yours.

Spare Refreshments Farmers Advised To Check Equipment

Every farmer wants to know how to cut repair bills on his equipment. It's always easier and less expensive to keep farm machinery in good condition, than to rebuild it after it has been neglected.

Here are a few hints, worth dollars to any farmer:

1. Make a thorough check of each machine at least twice a year.
2. When you find a worn or broken part, phone your farm dealer and repair man at once.
3. Don't take a machine into the field until you know it is in tip top condition.
4. Let your repair man check your tractor now for compression, adjustment and general efficiency.
5. House machinery when it is not in use.

Addition of Cabinet Advantage in Home

It is amazing what can be done to enhance the beauty of your home with some cabinet work or a few alterations by someone skilled in the business.

Robert Yeager, 1233 Queen street, phone 2783 or 3120-M, does this kind of work in and around Pottstown as well as light millwork and repairing furniture.

A cabinet placed in the home at a strategic place will benefit everyone in the household and add to the usefulness of your work. But be sure it is constructed by someone who specializes in the business.

Cabinet work is not for just an ordinary carpenter—it takes someone who has done the work for years.

Just phone Yeager and he'll be glad to give you free estimates on workmanship of this type.

Edwin T. Breyer, Miss Minnie Einsele United in Marriage

Miss Minnie Einsele, on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock became the bride of Mr. Edwin T. Breyer in the parsonage of St. John's Lutheran church, Sumnerstown.

Miss Einsele is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Einsele, Perkiomenville RD 1, while the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Breyer, Green Lane.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. E. L. Angstadt, pastor, officiating before the immediate relatives and close friends.

For her wedding dress the bride selected a suit of light blue wool with a corsage of white rose buds. She wore matching black accessories.

Her sister, Miss Marie Einsele, was maid of honor appearing in a gray street length dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Attending the bridegroom was Mr. Russell Pritz.

For the wedding, the bride's mother wore a navy blue suit with corsage of pink rose buds.

Following the nuptials a luncheon was served at the home of the bride with the following out-of-town guests in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hunter, Merchantville, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dietz, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Stum and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Frick, Langhorne; Mr. and Mrs. John Stum, Miami, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Lowitz, Gilbertsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Karow.

Mrs. Breyer works at Rosenau brothers, Red Hill. The bridegroom is employed at the Red Hill Rug Mill. During World War II he served two and a half years in the Pacific theater.

Charm School Girls To Hear Lecture by Beauty Authority

Officials of the Young Women's Christian Association expect the enrollment of the charm school, which opened the past week to exceed 100 members for the second session tonight at 7:30 o'clock in gym junction.

The school had to be moved from the club rooms due to the unexpectedly large enrollment of students. The time was advanced from 7:45 to 7:30 o'clock.

Tonight the teen-agers will hear Miss Helena Goudvis, noted beauty authority, in a special talk on good grooming, geared to their ages. It will include advice on skin care, make-up, general good grooming, fashion in relation to the individual, voice culture and poise.

She will stress the theory that every young girl can be lovely if she just follows a few basic treatment rules for her individual skin type. She will tell how through good posture, carefully chosen make-up, a well-modulated voice and a charming personality, achieve almost any goal she desires. She will explain how these things can be accomplished with minimum effort, and time and how she can be her natural fair and prettier self.

Miss Goudvis has taught at John Powers school for models and during the war was a member of the American Theater Wing overseas. She is a graduate of Northwestern university and since the war has been lecturing to college and teenage groups as well as women's clubs throughout the country.

The Y-Teens committee, Mrs. Thomas P. Storm, chairman, is in charge of bringing the course to the girls of Ninth grade junior high school as well as the Senior high school girls in Pottstown, Boyertown, North Coventry and Stowe.

Wilhelmina Busch Becomes Bride at Two Ceremonies

STARNBERG, Germany, Feb. 22 (AP)—Amid medieval splendor shined up somewhat by American dollars, beer heiress Wilhelmina Busch was married today to Sam Woods, U. S. consul in Munich. She is 64, he is 52.

The ceremonies—there were two—took place in the strictest privacy on the centuries old estate Miss Busch bought years ago and stocked with treasures from all over the world.

The public was barred by eight German policemen guarding the Bernried-Hoehnenried castle.

Only castle attendants witnessed the civil ceremony performed in the morning. Later in the day a double wedding ceremony was conducted by Capt. Roy E. Jones, chaplain of the Second Constabulary Brigade of the U. S. occupation forces.

The red-haired daughter of Adolphus Busch, St. Louis brewer, was dressed simply for the wedding but wore a diamond tiara.

The "public" ceremony was held in a thousand-year-old chapel imported by Miss Busch, stone by stone.

Among the handful of guests were Murray D. van Wagoner, military governor of Bavaria, and Brig. Gen. Edmund B. Sebree, commander of the Second Constabulary Brigade.

The guest list also included Adm. Nicholas Horby, former regent of Hungary, who lives at nearby Weilheim, and Prince Albrecht, heir pretender to the Bavarian throne.

The couple plan to fly to Zurich, Switzerland, tomorrow, and then to the United States, probably by way of Paris.

It was in Zurich that they first met. Miss Busch fled there when the Nazis harassed her and eventually turned her castle and estate into a Nazi sanatorium.

Born in the Midwest, Miss Busch came to Germany many years ago and married Edward Scharrer of Munich. After he died, she was wedded to a young doctor in Garmisch and then was divorced. She retained her American citizenship through the years. Because of this the Nazis seized much of her property.

The property has been restored to her since the war.

Whether the couple will return to the treasure-laden home to live was not disclosed.

Miss Busch had told friends that she may return there sometime this summer. The castle's reprieve with Louis XVI furniture, priceless Ming vases baroque and other collectors items.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S Advice to the Lovelorn Solving a Problem by Arithmetic

IT MAY seem like an odd idea, but it is sometimes possible to help solve an emotional problem by means of a little simple arithmetic. In other words, when you are finding it hard to decide which of several courses to follow, it may help if you settle on each of them a figure which represents, as nearly as you can approximate it, its value to you in emotional satisfaction, and then pick the one carrying the highest figure.

Put yourself, for instance, in the place of the young woman who writes the following letter and see how the system might operate.

"I have been married four years," she says, "to a very attractive, good-hearted man. This man travels, and I see him only on weekends. His occupation causes him to be with attractive girls, and this part of the situation I don't resent. I do resent the fact that he takes these girls out and seems unduly interested in each of them.

"I have spoken of this to him only twice, as I don't want to be a nagging wife. When I have mentioned it, he said: 'Maybe I do play around, but I love only you. Don't I buy you everything you need? Don't I come home whenever I possibly can?'

"And that is the truth. He does come home every chance he gets. He does send me all his salary. He does do everything a good husband should do except for his girls.

"He has admitted that he didn't love me when he married me. It was after an automobile accident in which I was seriously injured. He married me in the hospital, because he knew I loved him and thought that would help me get well. He declares, however, that he has learned to love me. Do you think this possible?

"What I want to know is, should I carry on with him, accepting him as he is, or should I leave him and try to make a life alone?"

Now while they present a very interesting angle of the situation about which to speculate, the unusual circumstances of this marriage have actually little or nothing to do with the crux of this wife's present problem.

The one that now confronts the wife is identical with that which plenty of other wives have found themselves facing, however conventional their own marriages may have been. That is, "Shall I accept my husband for the man he has turned out to be, or shall I break up my home and leave him?"

And so I suggest that "Puzzled," as the writer of the quoted letter signs herself, apply to her problem the arithmetical system mentioned above and see where it brings her out.

Let her take the figure of 100 as the value of the situation, whatever it might be, in which she would most like to live, and then let her put a figure on each of the situations she might conceivably choose and see which of them comes nearest the top.

How much, for example, is it worth to her to have a home and a husband who supports her and whose only fault appears to be that when business takes him away from her he has some good times with some of his feminine associates? Fairly innocent good times, too, I would think, since by her own admission he sends her "all his salary," and any serious philandering costs money. Does a home and that kind of husband mark a mark of 85? 75? Or only 40?

Then how about her suggestion that she might leave him and "make a life alone"? What value in emotional satisfaction would she put upon such a life as she visualizes it? 100? Or would the absence of her husband and what he gives her in companionship, possessions and love—yes, "Puzzled," I think it quite likely that he does love you—bring that figure down just a little to 90, or a lot, to 50, say?

How about other possible alternatives? Only she knows what they might be, and what value she would give them in her arithmetical line-up.

Unless there are facts that have been held back that would change my opinion, if I knew them, I think I would give this marriage a rating of 85, which, since you can't have everything, seems to me a value worth keeping. (What do you think yourself, "Puzzled"?)

Turkey Buries Flyer Shot Down in Bulgaria
ISTANBUL, Turkey, Feb. 22 (P) — Turkey buried an air force sergeant today at a state funeral obviously manifesting the nation's anger toward Bulgaria, whose anti-aircraft guns shot him down over the Black sea.

Generals and governors walked ahead of the caisson carrying Kemal Mende's flag-draped coffin. Virtually all members of Turkey's military and civil leadership attended.

"Let this be a lesson to us," an air force officer said in his eulogy at the grave in the cemetery of heroes. "It shall not happen again."

James Lutheran church and served on the church council.

During the last four years of his life he had been in failing health, according to his son, Irvin M. Stout, of Pottstown RD 3, and spent four weeks in the Pottstown hospital, until the past Feb. 16.

He belonged to no local organizations but was a member of the Hyde Park, Berks county, Patriotic Order of Sons of America.

In addition to his son, Mr. Stout's other survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ella M. (Dundore) Stout, of 613 King street; a daughter, Mrs. Verna Burke, of Winchester, Mass.; two other sons, Clarence E. of Coatesville, and Theodore L. of Portland, Ore.; three brothers, Chester, of Camden, N. J., and James and Wesley, of Hyde Park, and seven grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. from a Reading funeral home, with interment following in the Himmershutz church cemetery, Tuckerton.

The handbag was recovered by police from the ladies' room in the Town Tavern, 230 High street, where Mrs. Watson emptied it, left it on a table, and then rejoined her husband.

After these escapades the couple returned to Norristown, and later to Boyertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson were brought here Saturday by Reading car detectives A. M. Morris and Harold Oswald with Motor Patrolman Lewis M. Borget they visited all four beauty shop operators and Mrs. Watson, according to several of the owners, told the story of the thefts without hesitation.

Firestone Workers To Remain on Job

Work at the local Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant will go on as usual despite the expiration of the union's contract Saturday.

Stephen Dujack, president of Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIO), said last night.

"We will continue negotiations for the new contract on schedule," said the local chief. "We are proceeding on an oral agreement with the management."

So far no snag has been hit during negotiations he said.

The local has filed what Dujack called a "just-in-case" strike notice with the National Labor Relations board. The 60-day notice expired Saturday also and the local recently voted power to the executive committee to call a strike any time the need arose.

The 1948 contract has been issued to the local by the international union Dujack said. The measure was taken, he pointed out, because all locals in Firestone plants are negotiating for a company-wide contract and must therefore, have similar contracts.

The company and the local will also settle a supplementary contract pertaining only to local conditions.

One of the reasons for the company-wide proposed contract, the local president explained, was to level off base wage rates in all branches of the company.

children from Berks or Chester counties who did not have to register under the borough ordinance our wanted to anyway as a means of safeguarding their property.

At 5 o'clock Saturday, Pratt and his assistants were "just worn out," he said, and he had to close up, telling the cost of applicants to come back Monday.

At 7 o'clock Saturday, Pratt said he estimated the average bike-owner would pay about $250 for the repairs needed to put their vehicles in approved condition.

Children will begin registration of their bikes with police today, after paying the 25 cent fee.

Pratt, who was pleased that the ordinance was working to weed out many unsafe bikes, and by the fact the children took the long waits in line to have their bike inspected with such good grace.

It does what no car ever did

UNDER the broad bonnet of this fashion-plate beauty is an engineering triumph as sensational as it's simple.

For this is the Buick Roadmaster with Dynaflo Drive,* and here for the first time in any car the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here is America's first car that permits you to glide swiftly forward, accelerate, surge up hills, slow down, stop, start off all over again — without any gearshifting, even automatic.

In a handful of seconds you get from standstill to highway speed with ski-run smoothness unmarred by halt, lag or hesitation. In a normal day's driving through city and country you do nothing but accelerate, brake and steer.

You never touch a clutch pedal — there is none. You never shift a gear — no gears ever shift anywhere in the car.

You just sit like a king on a big soft cushion — start the engine — set a lever — step on the gas treadle — and go!

How come this near-miracle motoring? How come there's no gearshifting — either manual or automatic?

Only in Dynaflo Drive has the principle of the oil pump and turbine been fully developed for an automobile transmission.

Only here does smooth-flowing oil replace sliding gears as a means of changing the engine's driving force to meet the needs of starting, accelerating, cruising.

Only here do you move forward in a single, uninterrupted sweep of power entirely free of the usual steps through low, second and high gears.

And with this close-to-magic driving you have positive control under all conditions — an anchor-firm parking lock — cushioned going which can never overload or stall the engine.

Big news? But naturally!

So why delay visiting us? Come learn more about Dynaflo — and see if this single feature alone of the new Buick's 30-odd new advances isn't crowning reason for getting an order in right now.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Two Kinds of plays take on additional value when the declarer knows that one of the two defenders holds all the important high card strength of his side. One is the squeeze whereby with a winning card in one suit the declarer can give the strong opponent an impossible choice between relinquishing a winner in one or another different suit. The second of these plays is the throw-in, which forces the certain winner of a particular trick to lead away from some important card in the same or another suit.

♠ J 10	♥ A K 8 4	♦ A J 5	♣ K 8 4
♠ 9 5 3 2	♥ J 6	♦ Q 7 3 2	♣ A K 5
♠ 10 6 3	♥ 2	♦ Q 8	♣ A J 10
♠ 6 5 2	♥ Q 7 6 4	♦ 10 5	♣ K 9 7
	♥ K 9 7	♦ Q 9 7 3	♣

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable)

East	South	West	North
1NT	Pass	2♥	Pass
Pass	2NT	Pass	3♥
Pass	3NT	Pass	Pass
Do!

South was complimented later for having made a very sporting bid. He had nothing in his hand except what looked like a spoorer in each suit other than North's hearts, and was bargaining largely on the fact that, all of the opposition's real strength was punched in one hand. That fact proved to be worth enough to him to make his No Trump game against the opposition of an original 1-No Trump hand.

West opened his diamond 2, the 5 going on from dummy, the Q from East, and the K from South. With three tricks sure in that suit, plus probably four in hearts South had to wangle two more from the black suits. He led the heart 5 to the second trick. West playing low and the 8 going to the Q. The diamond 8 came back to the J. Now to make safe diamond returns impossible for East, he scored the A and then ran the heart A, K, 9 and 4, discarding on the last three of them the spade 4, club 3 and club 7, and East tossing off the spade 8 on the last of them. Now South threw East in with the spade J to the K. No matter how East now played he could take no more than two more tricks, so that his total was four and South had his game. His return would give the declarer either two club tricks or a club and a spade.

Tomorrow's Problem

♠ 8 6 4	♥ A 8 4	♦ K 10 8 4	♣ K 6 3
♠ K J 5	♥ N	♦ A Q 10	♣ 2
♠ J 6	♥ E	♦ 9 3 2	♣ J 6 3
♠ Q 9 7 2	♥ S	♦ J 9 4 2	♣ A Q 10 8

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

Why is an opening lead from the Q-9-7-2 of the dummy's suit likely to give the declarer what might be called a "synthetic finesse?"

Lack of Vocal Chords Brings Case Dismissal

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22 (P)—Mutts won't pester the neighbors any more with his yapping. His vocal chords have been snipped out.

I. A. started when two neighbors swore out a warrant against Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Becker, Mutts' owners. Mrs. Edwin Landrum told the jury in city court yesterday the little fox terrier had been yapping 14 of his 18 months. A dozen other neighbors concurred.

The warrant charged the Beckers with keeping a barking dog. But Mr. Becker, explained, was before he had a veterinarian remove the dog's "voice" or surgery.

Whereupon, Judge Cecil Curry dismissed the case.

Police Identify Body Pulled From River

CAMDEN, N. J. Feb. 22 (P)—Police have tentatively identified a body pulled from the Delaware river three days ago as Leo E. Zestarski, of Conshohocken.

Identification was made, police said, through a social security card found in his pockets. Zestarski had been missing since Dec. 15, when he left home to visit social security headquarters in Norristown.

Man Who Shot Friend Held for Manslaughter

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. Feb. 22 (P)—A 32-year-old salesman was charged today with first degree manslaughter in the fatal shooting of a friend.

Robert Stewart was arrested at his home after the shooting which, Police Chief C. Harry Nelson said, culminated a party. The victim, Roland Frick, 32, died about 3:30 a. m. of a chest wound.

Nelson said the weapon was a .32 calibre revolver owned by Stewart.

HILL TRACKMEN FINISH FOURTH IN AAU MEET

Grant Ties for Second In High Jump Event; O'Connell Places in Shot

The Hill's track team, copping two fourths, a fifth and a tie for second, finished fourth in the prep school division of the National AAU track and field meet Saturday night in Madison Square Garden, New York, behind Seton Hall, Cardozo and Moses Brown.

Seton Hall won the prep school championship with 53 points; Cardozo accounted for 23 points; Moses Brown followed with 11 points and The Hill garnered eight and one-half points. Lawrenceville school trailed the locals with eight points.

The Hill placed in two running events and two field events. Fred Grant made the best showing for The Hill by finishing in a tie for second place in the high jump and taking a fifth in the 60-yard hurdles. The local trackmen cleared the bar at six feet in the Mat O'Grady of St. Benedict's for second place.

Bob O'Connell, The Hill representative in the weight events, copped a fourth place in the shot put. The Hill's other winner was the six-lap relay team. The team finished the 960-yard race in fourth place, trailing Cardozo, Poly prep and Lawrenceville.

Maria Assunta Five Faces Roth's Cagers In Crucial Game

After coming back strong the past Thursday night to even the series at a game apiece, Roth's takes on Maria Assunta tonight in the third and deciding game of the City Basketball League's semi-final playoffs.

The winner of tonight's game will move on to the finals to face the Pottstown Tool and Engineering company quintet, winner of 12 consecutive league games. Tonight's semi-final will start at 8 o'clock at the Pottstown Junior High palestra.

In the preliminary contest, the Pottstown Cardinals will face a strong Pennsburg girls' team. The game will get underway at 7 o'clock.

Maria Assunta took a slight edge over Roth's in the first semi-final contest by scoring an impressive 32-27 victory. Roth's, however, came back strong in the second game to drub Maria Assunta by a 41-16 count.

For Roth's tonight, Claude Reinhart, Doug Breidenbach, Carlos Trolinger, Ed Kovach and Earl Strom will make up the starting team. Ace Bianchini, Joe Monaghan, Doug Umstead, Son Peterman and Bull Maloney will probably start for Maria Assunta.

The final playoffs are scheduled to get underway Wednesday night, league director Gene Kauler announced.

Hill Wrestlers Run Streak To 19 Wins, Defeat Rutgers

Failing to lose a single bout, The Hill's wrestling team ran its streak to 19 consecutive victories Saturday afternoon, conquering Rutgers university's freshmen, 29-2, before 450 fans in Gillison Memorial gymnasium.

Princeton Five Downs The Hill By 41-27 Score

With George Kurrus pacing the attack with 19 points, Princeton university's freshmen extended their streak to eight consecutive victories Saturday afternoon by drubbing The Hill's basketball team, 41-27, on the Princeton court.

Princeton, with a terrific height advantage, was in full command from start to finish, taking a slim three-point lead in the first period and increasing its lead as the game went on.

The Baby Tigers controlled both backboards during the entire game, and played great defensive basketball—limiting The Hill cagers to nine field goals.

Princeton hit its peak in the second and third periods. After an uneventful first quarter, the home team pulled away into a 21-10 halftime lead. After three periods Princeton was in front, 37-15.

In the fourth period, The Hill displayed most of its power by tabbing 12 points and holding Princeton to two field goals.

Kurrus was the big man in the Princeton offense. The big center roamed under the baskets and dropped nine field goals and a charity toss for 19 points. The Hill's Dick Harter followed Kurrus in the scoring race with 11 points via three two-pointers and five foul goals.

Jay Sherrard accounted for eight of The Hill's points.

The defeat brings The Hill's record to seven victories and four defeats. Two games remain on the schedule, one with Temple prep and the other with Lawrenceville.

HAMILTON WINS NEW ORLEANS GOLF TOURNEY

Beats Fred Haas Jr. By One Stroke; Top Golfers Far Behind

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 22 (AP)—Bob Hamilton of Reynolds, Ky., finished with a flourish today to win $2000 first prize money in the $10,000 New Orleans Open by a single stroke.

Hamilton's 34-35-69, two under par, gave him a score of 280. He passed up the local pride, Fred Haas Jr., who had led the tourney until today.

Haas, playing nervously under the pressure, took 36-35-74 for a total of 281. He ended in a tie with Roberto DeVicenzo of Buenos Aires, Argentina, who shot 37-34-71.

Joe Moore Jr. of Louisiana State university's golf team, was low amateur with 290. His 36-37-73 gave him a one-stroke lead over Doug Ford of Larchmont, N. Y., who had 35-37-72.

Haas, Little and DeVicenzo each won $1066.67.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago took $700 for fifth place with 282. Cary Middlecott, the Memphis, Tenn., dentist had 283 for sixth money of $600.

Ed Purgol of Pontiac, Mich., and Sam Sneed of Old Springs, Va., were next with 285 strokes and $475 apiece. Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., won $400 for his 286.

Other prize winners included: Eric Monte of Santa Monica, Calif.; Clayton Beafner of Charlotte, N. C.; Frank Moore of St. Louis, Mo.; and Marty Purgol of Brooklyn, N. Y., 287 and 282.50.

E. J. Harrison of Little Rock, Ark.; John Palmer of Badin, N. C.; Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kan.; and Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, 288 and $167.50.

Club Century Downs Philadelphia Five

Hitting the cords for 27 field goals and 13 charity goals, the Club Century basketball team of Pottstown scored an overwhelming 67-45 victory over Haven AA of Philadelphia Saturday night on the Bethany court.

The local Negro cagers played steady basketball throughout the entire game, taking a four-point lead in the first period and increasing their advantage as the game went along. At halftime, Club Century sported a 34-20 advantage.

Club Century's Walton took scoring honors with 18 points on eight field goals and two fouls. Bill Corum and Haven's Armstrong were runnup with 13 apiece.

The Los Angeles club announced officially that it had offered the coaching job to Snively, and although details of the offer were not made public, it was reliably reported that the Tar Heel coach was offered an annual salary of $25,000 plus a commission.

At North Carolina Snively is under a five year contract which has two years to run, and it is understood that his salary is $12,000.

Tom Allen Cops Two Titles In District One Swim Meet

Tommy Allen, captain of Pottstown High's mermen, turned in the second best performance in the 12th annual PIAA District One meet in the Hutchinson pool of the University of Pennsylvania Saturday afternoon by copping two free style championships.

Allen was the only double winner in the meet, winning the 50-yard and 100-yard free style races. His performance was overshadowed only by that of Coatesville's Bill Clinton, who set a new PIAA record for the 100-yard backstroke. He was timed for the century in 1 minute, 45 seconds.

Allen, who took the District One fancy diving championship three years ago, was clocked in 26.2 seconds for the 50-yard free style and in 56.5 seconds for the century.

Despite Allen's double victory, the best the Trojans could do was finish in third place behind Coatesville and Norristown. The Red Raiders collected 41 points; Norristown, 36; Pottstown, 31; Abington, 23; Edgemoor and West Chester, 12 each, and Upper Darby, 5.

Jim McDermitt, Pottstown's top-notch man in the breast stroke, finished in a tie for first place in the 100-yard race with Coatesville's Dave Barnes, but the judges awarded the victory to Barnes. The judges ruled that Barnes touched off before McDermitt, although both swimmers were clocked in 1 minute, 17.2 seconds.

The Pottstown 150-yard medley relay team also copped a second place. With Harold Begel swimming the backstroke, McDermitt the breast stroke and Paul Neuschwander the free style, the Trojans finished second behind Coatesville, who was clocked in 1 minute, 38 seconds.

Begel gained a third spot in the 100-yard back stroke for the Trojans, finishing behind Coatesville's Bill Clinton and Tom Herman. Neuschwander splashed his way to a fourth in the 100-yard free style event. Ted Dallas, Pottstown diver, finished in a tie for fifth place with Upper Darby's Pusey in the diving event.

Boys Receive Awards for Cage Talents

A strong All-School quintet defeated Pete's Stars, the Fifth Grade cagers down the Sixth Graders and prizes were awarded to nine boys in the final Pottstown basketball program for grade school boys of the 1947-48 cage season.

Director Ed Good announced that 54 boys registered for the program during the season, but the average attendance every Saturday was around 30.

In the final two cage games of the year, Al Bodolus led the All-School team to a 25-16 victory over Pete's Stars and the Fifth Graders scored an impressive 26-15 win over the Sixth Graders.

For his victory in the foul shooting tourney of 1947-48, Bruce Mismar was presented with a baseball. Second prize of a used basketball went to Russell Biehl and a pair of sneakers was presented to Carl Sunstrom, who won their place.

For fourth place, Al Bodolus received a "T" shirt. Leon Harbold, winner of the lay-up-shot tourney, received a baseball for first prize. Bodolus and Dave Clemens finished second and third, respectively, and also received baseballs.

Prizes for attendance were won by Lawrence Jones and Johnny Barber. Each received a pair of athletic socks.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22 (AP)—Assault, the clubfooted "Cinderella" of the thoroughbred racing world, is to be retired effective immediately.

Robert J. Kleberg, owner of the champion which has earned $626,620 to become the third ranking money earning race horse in the world, said Assault will be shipped to Kentucky "for at least a year."

Thus the racing career of a horse that wouldn't let a crippled foot interfere comes to an end.

His last race was Saturday when he ran fifth in the $50,000 Widener classic at Hialeah, four lengths behind his arch rival, Calumet Farm's Armed.

Kleberg said Assault, which won triple crown honors in 1946, burst an osslet, a growth on the horse's ankle peculiar to racing thoroughbreds in the race Saturday.

Assault's future as a champion race horse was nearly ended in 1943 when he stepped on a surveyor's stake on a Texas ranch. The stake, which drove into the right fore foot, caused a permanent injury which made it necessary to wear a specially-made built up shoe.

The malformation has caused him to be called the "Club-Footed Come!" and the "Cinderella of the Turf."

In 1946 he developed a kidney ailment which threatened to cut short his racing career. But this too was overcome and he went on to be voted the "Horse of the Year" in 1946.

BOLEN UPSETS TOP RUNNERS IN 600-YARD RUN

Edges George Guida, Villanova Star; Dillard Sets New Hurdle Mark

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP)—Dave Bolen of Boulder, Colorado, one of America's top ranking quarter milers loomed today as this country's best bet in the 400 meter race in the London Olympics next Summer.

Providing one of the biggest surprises Saturday night at Madison Square garden in the National AAU track and field championships, Bolen stamped himself as the man to beat in the 400 meters by capturing the 600 yard run in convincing fashion.

The "600" is the nearest thing to the Olympics' 400 meter in indoor season. Bolen defeated such distinguished sprinters as George Guida, Villanova college's defending champion; Herbert McKenley of Jamaica, world record holder for 440 yards, and Bob McFarlane, Canada's champion. All are likely to meet in London.

The meet provided the 13,607 spectators with a series of smashing performances that saw two world indoor records equalled and one merely mark broken.

Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace one of the three successful defenders broke the meet high hurdles record of 7.4 seconds and equalled the world mark of 7.2 seconds on his flight to victory over the five 3 foot 6 inch barriers of the 60 yard course.

Billy Mathis from Urbana, Ill., tied the other world indoor record. The little speedster added the indoor 60-yard crown to the outdoor 100 meter title he had won the past Summer when he accounted for the sprint in 61 seconds.

Curtis Stone of Philadelphia's Shamahan Catholic club defended his three-mile crown with an 85 yard victory over Armando Osterberg of New York university. Stone's time was 14:23.6.

Hilltop Basketeers Defeat Tigers for 8th Straight Win

Hilltop strengthened its hold on first place in the Bethany league Saturday afternoon and continued on its way to its second consecutive league championship by defeating the Tigers by a 41-26 score on the Bethany court.

The victory was the third in succession for Hilltop in the second half schedule. The Hilltop cagers won the first half with five straight wins and are unbeaten in league competition.

The victory also moved Hilltop one-half game ahead of St. James, who sport a record of two wins and no losses.

The Tigers gave Hilltop some trouble in the first half, holding the defending champs to 15 points. Leading at halftime by only four points, Hilltop rallied in the third period for 12 markers and added 14 digits in the final quarter to increase its lead to 15 points.

Only one game was played Saturday because of Pottstown Boy Scouts making a trip to Valley Forge. Many of the boys in the league belong to the Boy Scouts.

Motorist Missing As Auto Crashes Into Ditch in 'Ford

The driver of a sedan which turned turtle and stopped with its wheels in the air at the dead end of Church street, Royersford, sometime early yesterday morning was being sought by police, following discovery of the damaged machine yesterday morning shortly before 9 o'clock.

Chief of Police Burton Turner and Officer Earl Hesh investigated after a call was received by Hesh about 9 p. m. They found the car resting on its top in a deep ditch at the extreme end of Church street, adjoining a fence which encloses Lake View Memorial park. According to the license plates on the car, it is owned by John R. Minkovic, 335 Greene street, Bridgeport.

Police believe the driver, whoever he was, became aware of the presence of the ditch too late, applied his brakes, skidded and turned over. What happened to the driver or any other occupants could not be immediately learned. The time of the accident could not be learned. The machine was removed later by a tow truck to a local garage on orders of police, who were still trying to locate the owner last night.

The accident probably happened between midnight and 2 p. m. No snow was found under the overturned car, leading to the belief it crashed before snow started to fall about 2 o'clock.

Wymissing avenue when the crash occurred.

Nafziger evidently tried to halt, the trolley operator said, but skidded head-on into the large vehicle.

The automobile was reduced to junk by the collision but the trolley was barely scratched.

A new Jersey woman was hospitalized yesterday afternoon after a two-car collision.

Westmont, N. J., who was admitted to the Pottstown hospital with a deep laceration of the scalp and possible injuries of the right shoulder.

Mrs. Holroy was a passenger in an automobile driven by Charles H. Donehower, also of Westmont, that figured in a two-car crash at Route 663 and Swamp pipe at 5:45 p. m. yesterday.

Donehower was driving north on Route 663 when his auto was struck by that of Robert L. MacDonald, Boyertown RD, who was not injured. MacDonald was driving west on Swamp pipe.

Other passengers in Donehower's car were Mrs. Ella Vigor, of Philadelphia, who suffered a laceration of the scalp, and her husband, Andrew Vigor, who was not injured.

The injured persons were taken to the hospital in a Good Will ambulance driven by George Takach, assisted by Dominic Campitelli.

The entire front of MacDonald's car was smashed, while Donehower's car sustained damage to the right side.

The collision was investigated by State police of the Collegeville substation.

One driver was uninjured and the other escaped with a sprained thumb after a two-car collision at the intersection of Mangers Mill and Gilbertville roads, Halfway House, at 1:20 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Mabel Weller, of Royersford RD 2, was examined at Pottstown hospital and released after her injury was found to be superficial.

Her car was struck on the right side by a vehicle driven by Robert L. Hoel, of 845 Spruce street.

Elmer R. Fritz, Upper Pottsgrove officer, who investigated the accident and took Mrs. Weller to the hospital, said that Hoel went through a stop sign on Mangers Mill road.

He will receive a summons from Upper Pottsgrove Justice of the Peace Rufus H. Boyer.

Hoel was going west on Mangers Mill road and Mrs. Weller had just started from a stop on Gilbertville road, where there also is a stop sign, when the collision occurred.

The entire right side of Mrs. Weller's car was smashed and damage was estimated at $200. The front end of Hoel's car was damaged and the vehicle had to be towed to a garage.

Hoel was alone in the car, but with Mrs. Weller were her children, Clarence, 10, and Barrett, 18 months, and a neighbor, Lloyd Hess, 15, of Englewood, Norw. were hurt.

Fritz declared that he was "going to break-up" the practice of passing the stop signs at the Halfway House crossing.

Another motorist he nabbed for the offense was Anna E. Johnson, of New Berlinville.

She was charged with passing through a Mangers Mill sign at 1:45 p. m. Saturday, only 25 minutes before the two-car collision there.

Boyer will send the New Berlinville woman a summons, he said.

Harry Auman, 41, of Pottstown RD 4, was released from borough jail after $500 bail yesterday after he was accused of drunken driving, that resulted in an accident at 7:45 o'clock Saturday night.

Auman was driving north on York street when he turned left on Walnut street, colliding with an automobile driven by Ella Thompson, of Douglassville RD 1, going south on York street.

The woman said that Auman cut directly in front of her and that she could not avoid the collision.

Sgt. Daniel J. Linton and Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy took Auman to Dr. Harry K. Marcy Jr., police physician, who pronounced the man unfit to drive.

He was locked up in a borough hall cell at 8:22 p. m. and released at 11:30 a. m. yesterday when he posted bail.

He will appear for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelly, of the Second ward, in borough hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

Damage to the two cars involved the right front fender, fog light, front bumper, right front tire and right front hubcap of the Auman car, and the right front fender of the Thompson vehicle.

Both were towed to a high street garage.

OBITUARIES

PAULINE DOROTHY (MINNICK) WILLIAMS, 32, wife of Clayton Williams, PARKERFORD, died Saturday morning at 12:50 o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. Pauline Minnick Bykowski, 1073 South street, where she had resided for the past four weeks. She had been in failing health since 1940.

Born in St. Clair, Schuylkill county, she was a daughter of Pauline (Orzech) Minnick, now the wife of Stanley Bykowski, and the late Stephen Minnick. She resided in Parkerford since 1930.

Besides her husband, mother and stepfather she is survived by a sister, Mary, wife of Joseph Kuszyk, of 413 Water street; a brother, Stephen Minnick, 13 Caesars street; a half brother, Edmund Bykowski, and a half sister, Bernice Bykowski, of 1073 South street. She was a member of the Palatka Bible class of the Parkerford Baptist Sunday school.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at Parkerford, with interment in Highland Memorial park. The Rev. Deane E. Sory, of the First Baptist church, and Earle Marcus, of Parkerford Baptist church, will officiate.

HARVEY W. WERNER, BUCKTOWN, formerly of 120 North York street, died at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in the Memorial hospital. The 68-year-old man had been admitted to the hospital on Feb. 19.

Born and educated in Wernersville, Mr. Werner came to Pottstown almost 30 years ago. He earned his living as laborer and general handyman.

The past Summer he broke his leg, and while a patient in the hospital, became the friend of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Young, of Bucktown.

When he recuperated he moved to Bucktown with the Youngs, but maintained his apartment here at the same time.

His only survivors are a step-sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Ulrich, of Snodgrassville RD 1, and a step-brother, Frank Ernst, of Fleetwood.

Mr. Werner was a member of the Hains Reformed church, Wernersville. The pastor of the church the Rev. Ralph E. Starr, will officiate at the funeral services which will be held from a Laureldale funeral home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Interment will be in Hains church cemetery, Wernersville.

MARCIN "MARTY" MICKIEWICZ, 78, of 552 BEECH STREET, one of the founders of St. Peter's Catholic church, died in his home Saturday morning at 8 o'clock after a lingering illness.

Mr. Mickiewicz had been a member of the church ever since 1924 when he was one of a group that founded it.

Born in Poland he came to this country in 1890 and spent most of the remainder of his life in Pottstown. He was formerly employed by the Lessig Iron Mill but had been retired for the past 20 years.

His wife, Josephine (Stempniak) Mickiewicz, died in 1927.

He is survived by nine children, Catherine Mickiewicz and Mrs. Anna Keller at home; Mrs. Pearl Adamski and Sophia Mickiewicz, of 822 South street; Mrs. Mary Hullinger Reading; Mrs. Verna Strocks, of 119 South Washington street; John, of Columbus, Ohio; Joseph, of 244 South Washington street; and Morris, of 452 Apple street; 13 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from his home Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Peter's Catholic church at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Aloisius Old cemetery.

Funeral services for GERALD F. EMES, husband of Ageline (Moser) Emes, of 324 VINE STREET, STOWE, were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 258 Beech street.

The Rev. Paul C. Scheerer, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed church, Stowe officiated. Interment was made in East Nantmeal Baptist cemetery.

Bearers were four sons-in-law of the deceased: Peter Grimm, Joseph Slavick, Joseph Surman and Elmer Wisler.

Funeral services for ANNA (SAKALA) PACHIK, wife of Menard Pachik, of 13 EAST SECOND STREET, will be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

Requiem mass will be celebrated in St. John's Catholic church (Greek Rite) by the Rev. John D. Tapach, rector. Interment will be made in St. John's Greek Catholic cemetery.

Funeral services for WILLMINA (SMITH) GRIESEMER, widow of Irvin L. Griesemer, of 658 WALNUT STREET, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street.

Officiating will be the Rev. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church. Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Steel Workers' Classification Complete At Bethlehem Plant, Union Group Told

The nine-month-old plan of classifying some 1200 union men in the local Bethlehem Steel plant into 30 wage brackets has been completed, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of Local 2177, United Steel Workers of America.

J. Alfred Marquet, local president, told members gathered in the Singer building that three local representatives and three from management decided Feb. 13 to install the "wage inequity agreement" which groups workers in brackets ranging from $1.09 to $2.25 per hour.

The classification committee consisted of Marquet, James K. Dilliplane and Charles Hartman, of the steelworkers, and Milton I. Eshbach, Kenneth Z. Fillman and Michael Hedkin, of management. Harold Cadmus alternated with Fillman as a regular member.

"There are a few wrinkles to be ironed out," Marquet explained. Some workers, he added, will get pay boosts now and some will be entitled to retroactive increases dating to Jan. 6, 1944 when the War Labor board issued the directive calling for the classification.

"The company will pay as soon as possible," he assured local members, adding that some Bethlehem plants have already paid off on wage discrepancies the classification procedure.

The local will not throw its support to any presidential candidate until the Political Action Committee of the CIO commits itself, Marquet said.

"Then I feel sure we will go along with them," he continued. "I personally agree with Phil Murray (CIO president) that there should be no third party."

The local president said the local also agreed to back Murray on his proposal for a general wage increase for this year and have wired their approval.

The nine-month-old plan of classifying some 1200 union men in the local Bethlehem Steel plant into 30 wage brackets has been completed, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of Local 2177, United Steel Workers of America.

J. Alfred Marquet, local president, told members gathered in the Singer building that three local representatives and three from management decided Feb. 13 to install the "wage inequity agreement" which groups workers in brackets ranging from $1.09 to $2.25 per hour.

The classification committee consisted of Marquet, James K. Dilliplane and Charles Hartman, of the steelworkers, and Milton I. Eshbach, Kenneth Z. Fillman and Michael Hedkin, of management. Harold Cadmus alternated with Fillman as a regular member.

"There are a few wrinkles to be ironed out," Marquet explained. Some workers, he added, will get pay boosts now and some will be entitled to retroactive increases dating to Jan. 6, 1944 when the War Labor board issued the directive calling for the classification.

"The company will pay as soon as possible," he assured local members, adding that some Bethlehem plants have already paid off on wage discrepancies the classification procedure.

The local will not throw its support to any presidential candidate until the Political Action Committee of the CIO commits itself, Marquet said.

"Then I feel sure we will go along with them," he continued. "I personally agree with Phil Murray (CIO president) that there should be no third party."

The local president said the local also agreed to back Murray on his proposal for a general wage increase for this year and have wired their approval.
